

Dear Innovators and Leaders,

The Local Organizing Committee (LOC) invites your organization to sponsor or exhibit at the 13th International Working Conference on Stored Product Protection (IWCSP 2026). Join 500-700 global delegates—researchers, policymakers, agribusinesses, and tech innovators—to drive solutions for reducing post-harvest losses (PHL) in Africa and the world.

A Legacy of Global Impact

The IWCSP is the world's premier forum dedicated to advancing the science, technology, and policy of stored product protection. For decades, this prestigious conference has rotated among leading nations, bringing together the brightest minds – researchers, technologists, policymakers, industry leaders, and practitioners – to share cutting-edge solutions and forge collaborations. Hosting the 13th edition in Kampala, Uganda, in October 2026 is a significant privilege and a unique opportunity to drive progress at the heart of Africa's agricultural transformation. We expect to welcome delegates from across the globe, creating an unparalleled platform for impact.
